Podium Board

Press release — Autumn 2022

The Podium Board by Jomi Evers is a sophisticated multi-functional accessory made for everyday use throughout the home.

Perfect for displaying prized possessions, keeping objects in place, as well as protecting surfaces from hot temperatures, its possibilities are up to your imagination.

Available in three sizes, this slim and organic piece, with its beautiful, rippled top is made from solid marble and stone giving each board a unique appearance. Choose from Italian Carrara marble, characterised by the warm white background and the shaded grey veins, or black basalt stone with its fine and even-grain texture.

Whether used as a display stand, tray or trivet, each Podium Board is as distinctive as the home it is intended for and is sure to last a lifetime.

“Podium demonstrates how a single material, once refined and formed, can become an elegant and multifunctional object.”
